DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-40, drawn to a capacitive load driving circuit, classified in class 315, subclass 169.4.
- II. Claims 41-60, drawn to a plasma display apparatus, classified in class 315, subclass 169.2.
- III. Claims 61, 62, drawn to an inductive load driving circuit, classified in class 315, subclass 248.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions II and I are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the plasma display in group II does not require a power distributing circuit having an impedance whose value is not smaller than one-tenth of the value of the resistive component of the conducting impedance of the driving device. The subcombination (group I) has separate utility such as usage in liquid crystal display (LCD), field emission display (FED), electro-luminescent display (ELD), etc.

Art Unit: 2821

Inventions II and III are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the plasma display in group II does not require a power distributing circuit having an impedance whose value is not smaller than one-tenth of the value of the resistive component of the conducting impedance of the driving device. The subcombination (group III) has separate utility such as inductive-type discharge device (e.g. electrode-less lamp), etc.

Inventions I and III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention III has separate utility such as inductive-type discharge device (e.g. electrode-less lamp). See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Art Unit: 2821

Applicants are reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(l).

A shorten statutory period for response to this action is set to expire thirty days from the mailing date of this communication. Failure to respond within the period for response will cause the application to become abandoned.
